

Name: _____ Class: _____

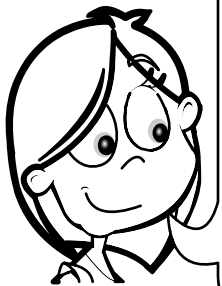

Read the stories below. Place the correct punctuation mark in each box. You may need full stops, commas, semi-colons, question marks, exclamation marks, brackets, dashes and speech marks.

Today Sten fell into the river right next to a gigantic crocodile . I was frozen - usually I'm so brave - with fear . I just stood there watching him splash , struggle and try to get out . I was convinced the crocodile would get him ; I would have lost my best friend .

Today was terrifying ! Shall I tell you why ? I fell into the river and was nearly eaten by a crocodile ! I called Granny and told her I wanted to come home . Granny replied , "Are you sure It sounds like you're having fun ?" "Does she really think nearly being eaten alive is fun ?"

Today Sten fell in the river . Stig was no help at all ; he just stood there . Sten kept waving his arms yelling , "Help me ! Help me !" "All he needed to do was stand up ; the water was only 2 feet deep . Finally , I got him to shore . He kept screaming about a crocodile getting him . Yet the only thing in the water was a big, brown log .

Now it's your turn to write an entry. What do you think Manu would say about his day? Write it in the space below.

Today we all went to the river. Stig, Sten and Klara went down by the water while I stayed with the picnic. Suddenly, I heard a shout and a splash! It was Sten. A few minutes later, they came back to the picnic. Sten was covered in black mud! "I almost got eaten!" he said. "By a log!" followed Klara. We all laughed in the end.

Suggested answers