

A Cloudy Lesson – Weather Report

Create your own written or oral weather report and include details of some rather strangely shaped clouds!

- What information do you want to put across and in what order will you present it?
- What is the main message you want to get across?
- What will you start with?
- How will you finish your weather report?
- Are you telling the story of the weather day?
(morning, afternoon, evening & night)

You can watch the weather forecast on the news for ideas on how to structure and present your work.
