Messages from St Peter's

3rd February 2023

MESSAGE FROM THE HEAD TEACHER

Dear Parent / Carer,

This week, Year 6 went to Young Voices in Manchester. Young Voices is the largest children's choir in the world, and St Peter's has attended it for many years. Once again, it was a wonderfully inspiring occasion as over 8000 pupils performed at the Manchester AO Arena in front of a huge crowd. They even got to sing with Heather Small of M People fame, Beat Box with the World Champions and dance with professional dancers who have backed with the likes of Justine Bieber and Beyonce. A big thank you to Mr Badley, Mrs Wilcox and Mrs Bowles for taking the pupils. It was long day and my dad dancing has still not improved.

Well done also to the Year 6 Football Team who yesterday came agonisingly close to another St Peter's win at a football tournament. After nine games, they finished on the same points as another school, but goal difference put us into second place even though we didn't even concede a goal for the whole tournament. Year 4 girls play today and Year 5 boys on Monday.

On Tuesday, Year 5 went to Crucial Crew where they learned all about being safe on the road, Cyber Crime and Bullying, the emergency services, how to call 999 and how to put someone in the recovery position. They had a great time and learned a lot from the afternoon.

Next week, we will be taking part in Safer Internet Day, although we will be extending this and spending most of the week educating our children on how to be safe online. On Wednesday, we will be hosting The Code Show, which is an historical computing exhibition that celebrates how Britain entered the Computing and Digital Age. On show will be Sinclair ZX Spectrums, Video recorders, 1980's mobile phones, Sony Walkman's and we will have a 1985 Sinclair C5 on display. Children will be able to look at these items and after school we are inviting parents to come in at 3.30pm and take a nostalgic walk down memory lane with their children. We are also welcoming Merseyside Police Digital Media Intelligence unit, who will be working with Year 5 and Year 6 about Cyber Crime

Kids For Sport

Unfortunately, Kids for Sport will not be with us for a period of time. We are working on how to get them back and as soon as I have further information, I will inform you. The Half Term Camps are still going ahead.

Parent Governor

Attached to this newsletter will be information about an opening for a Parent Governor position. Please take the time to read what it takes to be Governor at St Peter's and if you would be interested in becoming a candidate.

Kind Regards

Mr Robinson

PARENT GOVERNOR VACANCY

Parent Governor Vacancy

Due to the resignation of one of our parent governors we now have a vacancy on our governing board.

You will be expected to attend at least two meetings of the governing board each term, these are held on various days at 4.30pm. We also hold termly governing board development session starting at 5.30pm. Meeting usually run for two hours.

An extensive programme of governor training is offered by St Helens Council in addition to the on-line training available through the National Governance Association. All new governors must undertake safeguarding training and complete the induction training within twelve months of their appointment.

Please consider this important role and put your name forward if you believe you have the time and skills to support the work of the governing board.

Nomination forms are available on the school website or from the school office.

Being a Parent Governor

The role of a parent governor is no different to that of the other school governors. They hold equal rights and status and your involvement is not limited to matters of parental interest. Instead, parent governors hold the unique position of being able to share a parental perspective into strategic discussions and decision making.

Through your children you will have first-hand experience of the daily life at St Peter's, what they think of the school from their point of view and you'll have experience of the curriculum we teach.

Parent governors are:

- Well placed to understand parent's views and to remind the governing board how matters being discussed affect parents
- Individuals who act according to their own conscience. How they vote on any decision is up to them
- In a good position to help the governing board to communicate effectively with parents
- Equal in all status to all other governors.

Parent governors are not:

- Expected to gather the views of other parents and take them to the governing board;
- Simply expected to represent the interests of parents
- Expected to vote as instructed by other parents.

How to fulfil your role

Being a parent governor involves achieving a delicate balance of roles; from sharing your experience as a parent to helping the governing board with the strategic management of the school. Some of the things you can do to help you in your role are:

- Learn all you can about the school; its policies, procedures, the curriculum, its teachers
- Give your time to prepare for and attend governing board meetings regularly and play an active role in committees and decision making.
- Regularly undertake governor training to ensure you understand your role and responsibilities and can effectively support the governing board.
- Arrange visits to school to see how the curriculum is being taught by teachers.
- Always represent the school positively.

As a governor you are one of a group, which means you can have your say on decisions in meetings and vote in the way you wish; but support the outcomes of votes – even if you disagree.

The role will also give you access to a lot of highly sensitive and confidential information – it's important you always observe confidentiality and don't discuss it with anyone who is not a governor.

How you can help parents

Parent governors are likely to have more visibility to other parents, from the daily school run, than other governors and there are ways you can help parents in your role.

- Be approachable to other parents, but make sure you are clear about your role.
- Consider how the school communicates with parents and how easy it is for parents to go into school to discuss things with the headteacher or teachers
- Consider how accessible the governors are and if parents ever get the opportunity to meet with governors; do they know how to get in touch with the chair of governors if they need to.

From time-to-time parent governors may be approached by other parents asking for help or wanting to make a complaint about something the school is or isn't doing. Direct parents to the school's Senior Leadership team can help with most queries and concerns and it's important not to raise expectations of being able to fix any issues – a governors' role is to help the board make informed decisions that balance all sides of every story.

Mr Kevin Smith has been the most recent governor to join the board and has written about his experience as a new governor.

When I was first asked to become Foundation a governor, I realised that although I was interested in the role, I wasn't too sure what it really involved other than knowing there were regular meetings to discuss what happens in the school. I learned more about what the governor role entails and found the National Governance Association website helpful for this. Once I knew more, I was still interested, and thought that my professional experience could be useful in the role. I agreed to being nominated by St Peter's Church as a governor and was appointed to the governing board in June 2022.

It has been really interesting learning so much more about the school our child attends and it feels fulfilling to be in a position to help support the school community. As you might expect, the role does involve a time commitment. I have learnt much more about the role and what I am required to do, completed a range of training courses, and regularly prepare for and attend different board and committee meetings. The full governor board typically meet once a term for a couple of hours, as does each individual committee. There are also ad hoc meetings that take place for a variety of reasons, for example we recently met with teachers to understand how they have weaved the main subject concepts into the COURAGE curriculum.

I've really enjoyed my time as a governor so far and would recommend that anyone who is interested in the role finds out more about it and considers applying. I've been able to see just how much hard work and effort goes into the running of the school behind the scenes to make it a safe and engaging place for the children to learn, and it feels rewarding to have a role in supporting this. I find it a really positive opportunity to contribute to the school and its longer-term development, helping to ensure that children across all year groups can achieve their full potential from their time at St Peter's.

Any pupil that falls below 94% attendance is classed as a cause for concern and will be contacted by the Education welfare Officer.
